

Charlemagne died and his empire broke up.
Feudalism began

Jan. 28, 814

Duncan: Cal

The Holy Roman Emperor Charlemagne died.

His empire died soon after His successors dismissed the scholars from court; closed the schools for children.

Alcuin had compiled encyclopedias and collected manuscripts.

814

Arabic numerals are established.

814

Duncan; Cal

on Charlemagne's tomb is :
He died at the age of 70, the year of our Lord 814, the 7th Indiction, on the 28th day of January

814

1912 Dates J-BK

Charlemagne did.

814

Death of Charlemagne. His only surviving son, Louis the Pious, emperor.

814

1912 Dates J-BK

Chant of Metz, Germany began to be introduced in all Catholic churches at Matonis.

814 - 840

1912 Dates J-BK

Franks under Carolingians

LUOWIG the Pious (Louis le Dèbonnaire) son of Charlemagne was king.

Bernhard; (nephew of Ludwig,
king of Italy under Ludwig; revolted.
He was captured and slain.

814

Death of Charlemagne +
His son, Louis the Pious, succeeded him.

814

Charlemagne died.
Succeeded by his son Louis
the Pious who divided France among his sons in 817.

814-840

FRANCE Carolingian Dynasty
LOUIS THE PIUS was Emperor